DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1) The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 2) Claims 1-7 and 9-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Best (FR 2608708) in view of Yoshimura et al (4985973).

In re claims 1-2, 6-7, 9, 12, 17-23, Best teaches a significantly similar spring washer including an outer spring body (2), a central opening, (figure 3), fingers (3) and an annular plate. Best lacks the teaching of the slits having substantially parallel sides. Please note that the shape of the slits can be considered a design choice. Note that claims 18-23 claim "a stackable spring washer" which is shown in a non-elected embodiment of the invention. Because the elected figures fail to show the stacked relationship, the claims have been treated as the washers being capable of being stacked. The washers of Best are capable of being stacked.

Yoshimura et al teaches slits (3) with parallel sides and fingers which taper in towards each other.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided slits of Best with parallel sides as taught by Yoshimura et al merely as a design choice or to change the spring force. Further, it has been held that a claimed shape is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art absent evidence that the particular shape has significant utility. In re Dailey, 357 F.2d 669, 149 USPQ 47 (CCPA 1966)

In re claims 3-5, Best teaches at least 12 fingers. (Figure 3)

In re claims 10-11, 13-14, see portion 9 of Best.

In re claims 15-16, see portion 9 of Best.

Response to Arguments

3) Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4) Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
